

Employment Culinary Training Program

The Bloom Culinary Training Program prepares adults with disabilities for a career in hospitality. Following program completion, Paraquad's certified employment team provides graduates with support to ensure long-term success, including helping graduates find jobs.

In the 15-week training program, taught by a certified culinary instructor, students learn:

- Sanitation and food safety
- Knife skills
- Cooking and baking
- Customer service

Program Benefits:

- Small class size
- Industry-specific skills
- ServSafe certification
- Soft skills training
- Job readiness training
- Optional paid internship
- Job placement assistance
- On-the-job support

The Productive Living Board for St. Louis County Citizens with Developmental Disabilities and the St. Louis Office of Developmental Disability Resources provide funding.
